Faculty of: Faculty of Homoeopathy

About: I am Dr. Disha Wadhwa, currently serving as an Associate Professor in the Faculty of Homoeopathy. With 7 years of academic and clinical experience, I am committed to advancing the principles and practice of homoeopathy through education, research, and compassionate care.

I completed my MD in Repertory from Guru Ravidas Ayurved University, Hoshiarpur in 2016, after obtaining my BHMS from Baba Farid University of Health Sciences, Ludhiana in 2010. Over the course of my career, I have published 3 research papers and continue to explore new avenues in homoeopathic research and education.

My professional interests lie in repertory and its practical applications in improving diagnostic accuracy and treatment outcomes. I believe in the integrative power of homoeopathy to restore health and balance in a holistic manner.
